

Business Analyst

Reporting to the VP of Product, you will be responsible for delivering data-driven insights and solutions to our customers. You will work closely with the VP of Product and other stakeholders to understand business needs, define the requirements, and analyze the data using SQL and other analytics and business intelligence tools. You will also collaborate with the engineering team to ensure the quality and usability of the data products in an agile environment.

Who you are

You are an experienced Business Analyst with a passion for leveraging data to drive insights and inform decision-making. You are a collaborative team player, with a proven ability to understand business requirements and identify opportunities through thorough data analysis.

What you'll be doing

- Conduct data analysis and reporting using SQL, Power BI, Amplitude and other tools to support product decisions and initiatives
- Communicate complex data findings and recommendations to various audiences in a clear and concise manner
- Work with the VP of Product and other stakeholders to define and prioritize the product backlog, user stories, and acceptance criteria
- Participate in agile ceremonies such as sprint planning, daily standup, and retrospectives
- Perform data quality checks and troubleshoot data issues
- Stay updated on the latest trends and best practices in data analysis and product development

How you'll be measured

- Quality and relevance of insights and recommendations provided
- Deviation from product estimates of time, cost and effort
- Stakeholder feedback

What we're looking for

- Bachelor's degree in business, computer science, statistics, or related field
- 3+ years of experience as a business analyst, data analyst, or similar role in a product environment
- Proficient in SQL, PowerBI, and other data analysis and visualization tools
- Experience working with snowflake or other cloud-based data platforms
- Experience working in an agile product environment using Scrum or Kanban methodologies

What will help you succeed?

- Strong analytical, problem-solving, and communication skills
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively with cross-functional teams
